Laure Hatchuel-Becker said “Peaks Speak is my fourth exhibition in as many years in Singapore, in response to the considerable interest for my work here. I am both grateful and delighted. I look forward to meeting collectors and members of the public at the opening event and to interact with everyone at the artist talk.”

Peaks Speak

Laure Hatchuel-Becker has created a new language - one of sophisticated elegance, precise beauty, crafted mountains of rich oil colours, mesmerizing and precise landscapes of thousands of sculptures.

Each of these myriads of sculptures is a miniature geological formation, perfectly pointed and shining under the gallery light. The viewer is drawn to a close inspection of each peak, better seen from the side of the painting. One would want to be a fly on the wall and yet move further away and take the breathtaking beauty particularly of the animal compositions, with their subtle and respectful references to many masters of art history.

In front of the artworks, one wants to engage in a tribal dance, intense and strictly choreographed. Navigating from close up in a magical helicopter above the peaks, then moving further away one can fully admire Laure Hatchuel-Becker's carefully controlled craft and meditative prowess.

It is a great honour for Art Porters to show Laure Hatchuel-Becker's works, and to invite the collecting public to appreciate and enjoy "Peaks Speak".
